

Funeral Operative

- Do you want to work for a local family run business with a passion for delivering high standards?
 - Are you looking for a job that is rewarding?
- Do you think you have the ability and skills to help families during a difficult time?
 - Are you committed to providing good client care?

A.B Walker and Son Limited, a long-established family owned, and controlled Funeral Directors has a vacancy for a full time Funeral Operative predominantly based at their Reading Office.

This vacancy requires a person of smart appearance with good communication skills as they will be liaising with bereaved families, hospitals, nursing homes and Crematoriums.

General duties include pall bearing and chauffeur duties, collection of the deceased from place of death to our premises, and preparation of the deceased for the chapel of rest.

Other duties include preparation of coffins, preparing cremated remains graves and maintaining and cleaning of company vehicles.

This role would be suited to someone with a background in care, hospital work or manual handling; however this experience is not a mandatory requirement. Key qualities of the ideal candidate would be the ability to take initiative, to be responsible for their own work, to have great attention to detail and be able to thrive in a team atmosphere.

Our Service must always be first class and the care and consideration of our customers' needs and requirements is of the utmost importance. We therefore require a person with a positive attitude, with plenty of initiative to learn the procedures and quickly become a valuable member of a busy working team.

The applicant must hold a clean, manual driving license.

A uniform and suit are provided.

Hours of work: 8.30am- 5.30pm, Monday – Friday.

You will become part of a "Call out" rota in which you will be expected to carry out removals outside of working hours.

Holidays- 20 days per year plus bank holiday and your birthday

Salary- £22,000.00 per annum
